School Expands Westward with a New Addition

When 185 freshmen flowed through the doors of PHS in September, we gasped and moved over to make room for them. We soon adjusted to having fewer cubic feet of space, however, and went good-naturedly about our business of getting an education. In our spare moments we lingered on the west landing, watching the new PHS take shape — underclassmen enthusiastic, seniors envious, and everyone excited.

Languages, Science, Math Open Pathways for Our Minds

While teachers raised their voices over rattling air hammers and cringed at steam shovels coming within inches of classroom windows, we sought answers to many questions. Sometimes we wondered what relation an understandable definition of osmosis or a paraphrase of Shakespeare would have to our future. But we realized that somehow it would all become more meaningful as time went on.

At left—Dick Williams and Ron Bashia paint carbon black on a glass plate in determining the vibrations per second of a tuning fork in physics class.
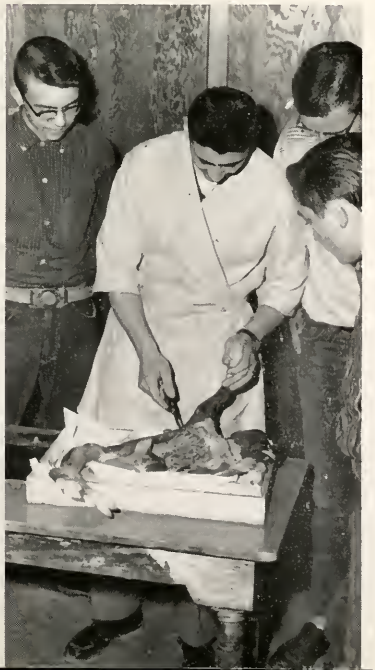
Lower, right—Bill Zuercher and Jane Wetzler model the blue and black senior outfits before a senior English class.



Crowds Throng Between Classes

Slamming Lockers, Crinolines, Impatient Students Add to Congestion

Four minutes isn't very long. . . . Move with the traffic. . . . Chorus class meets in the auditorium, and driving students assemble in a shower room. . . . We're filling every nook and cranny.

"It's functional," says Mr. Settle about his stockroom.

We Continue to Develop Our Skills

Above—Future stenographers gain experience with modern office equipment.

Right—"I think it should be a little shorter," says Joyce Jellison (kneeling) to Margie Heston.

Below—"Should I take French or German?" wonders John Jaqua as he and his parents consider his freshman college subjects.

"Doctor, Lawyer, Merchant, Chief—" Which Shall It Be?

Below—Mr. Ben Irvin, chairman of student advising program at Ball State, presides in one of the sessions at college night.

College Night, Career Day Help Us to Decide

As the year slipped away, the tremendous task of deciding what to do after graduation kept bearing down upon us.

College? A job? Marriage?

Our counselor, our parents, the community — everything plays its part in determining the direction we shall take.

Social Highlights of the Year Leave Beautiful Memories

Spectacular "Oriental Paradise" Climax of 1957

Parties and programs are the breath of life at PHS. The hypnotic show, sponsored by the band-parents, brought uncontrollable glee as we watched our friends "perform." The Hi-Y Christmas dance, the Student Council talent show, the Y-Teen "Twilight Time" all were wonderful.

But eclipsing all of these was the "Oriental Paradise," biggest night of the year 1957. Hues of red and gold, dragons, pagodas, ming trees, servers clad in Eastern dress —all are a blend of wonderful memories of the climax to a school year.

Opposite page, above—The bong sounds, and Norma Zorn, 1957 prom queen, enters in a rickshaw drawn by Chinese coolies.
Below—We literally danced all night at the Rotary-sponsored Whing Ding.
Right—Dick Elmore points out Barbara Tullis in a demonstration of hypnotism.

Holidays Add Spice

Holidays added the finishing touch to our year. Halloween, Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter – usually we thought of them in terms of vacations, but often some of our school work was centered around their observance.

At right—Diane Kinsey, Joy Baxter, and Billie Warren are on hand to welcome Saint Nick upon his arrival in Portland.

Below—An impressive Thanksgiving play presented by the speech class includes Puritan lads, Phil Maitlen and Artie Wilson, and maidens, Marilyn Turner and Lois Lotz, as well as a Massachusetts Indian, Gary Rice.

IT IS PEOPLE THAT MAKE PHS COME ALIVE—

wise administration, inspiring faculty, and spirited students. Bubbling teens study, laugh, dream, and plan for the future together.

Superintendent D. S. Weller

"Despite criticism occasioned by Sputnik, our schools are meeting the challenge of our time," commented Mr. Weller. "Good teachers have held high standards, and no apologies are made for past performance."

Superintendent, Principal, and Board

Principal H. S. Brubaker

"To educate all the children of all the people is a tremendous task," said Mr. Brubaker. "We believe progress lies in refining the system we have rather than discarding it for something less democratic."

The Board of Education is alert to new trends in education; they attend meetings and workshops with other school boards, and consider thoughtfully the ideas presented.

Mrs. Hugh Ronald, president of the Indiana School Boards' Association, is also president of the local board. Other officers are secretary, Mr. George West, and treasurer, Mr. Harry Theurer.

Interpret Our Philosophy of Education

BOARD OF EDUCATION—Mr. Glenn Hutchens, Mr. Harry Theurer, Mrs. Hugh Ronald, Mr. George West, Mr. Hugh Miller, Supt. D. S. Weller.

Senior officers enjoy a break from a meeting-planning session: Judy Jenney, secretary; Vernon Stipp, vice-president; Jerry Bailey (standing), president; Carolyn Gegenheimer, treasurer.

Being a Senior Means Many Things

Our last year of high school finds us experieneing more vividly than ever before the mental awakenings and the wider horizons that are open to us. We are making more adult decisions and thinking more deeply on serious subjects — science projects, English poetry, current problems of government — than we have ever thought before.

At the same time, we are having more real fun and pleasure than we did as underclassmen. Our life is full: we go places, we do things, we are with friends. This senior year is something special, and we are savoring every minute of it.

OPPOSITE PAGE, upper left—Eileen Settle and teacher exhibit her entomology collection that won them a trip to the national science fair in Los Angeles in 1957 and again to Flint, Michigan, in 1958.
Right—Mrs. Crowe, Linda Williams, and Phyllis Pusey admire a book given by the Y-Teens to the library in memory of Carol Mast.

"I was taking my driving test and I almost hit a tree!" "Did you get a part in the play, too?" "Some of the seniors found out what the reception theme is and we're going to have to change it." "When did you say we're having that English test?"

These scattered comments reflect what has been a hectic but memorable year for the juniors. They studied hard, spent hours at Pensinger's, fell in love often and out as quickly, got hooked into too many extra activities, caused an uproar by changing the reception to a buffet, almost never slept and almost always ate, and never found enough time to do everything.

Fads Come and Go Quickly

IT IS ACTIVITIES THAT GIVE MEANING TO OUR STUDIES —

clubs, music, publications, plays, and social life. Sometimes the calendar of events is crowded, but it's all fun and part of growing up.

Above—Jim Jaqua takes a last look at his introduction notes for an auditorium program under the guiding eye of Miss Parks, sponsor, and Pat Linder, chairman.

Activities of the Student Council ranged from sponsoring noon dances and chartering fan busses to encouraging democratic procedures and promoting school spirit.

As an outgrowth of recent interest in a foreign student for PHS, the council was host for a day to Peter Erne, German student from Montpelier High School.

Although cramped for time and space, the forty members and sponsors met their full schedule of activities for a successful year.

Capacity Crowd Witnesses Successful Talent Show

Biggest project of the Student Council this year was its third biennial talent show. Emcee'ed by Steve Ronald, alias Ed Sullivan, Groucho Marx, Lawrence Welk, and Steve Allen, the program featured twenty-three acts of variety, humor, and music.

Every student backed the ticket sale, with the result that people were sitting on folding chairs in the aisles. The proceeds are tentatively ear-marked for the foreign student project.

FFA Reaps Awards in Competition

A busy year for FFA opened with Clair Bye and Mike Bowen winning the state tractor demonstration at the State Fair. Larry Vance, '55 PHS alumnus, was awarded the American Farmer Degree at the National Convention. Howard Rines was the highest individual in crop judging and entomology judging in the district contests. To wind up the year, Larry Journay and Mike Bowen were awarded Hoosier Farmer degrees.

BAND Goes "Ivy League" with Red, White, Blue Stripes

Whether playing a "Pops" concert on Sunday afternoon or marchinig at the Jay County Fair in sharp, patriotic summer uniforms, the band performed many engagements with aplomb. Winning first place in the Bluffton Street Fair competition fulfilled a longtime ambition.

During Music Week in May, the formal spring concert featuring senior members was presented.

CHOIR and CHORUS Fill the Air with Music

Vocal groups continued to attract lots of PHS students. Combining chorus, two pianos, bells, cymbals, and tympani, the robed choir presented Fred Waring's Song of Christmas for both the Kiwanis Community Sing and the senior Christmas convocation. They also appeared at the Good Friday services at the West Walnut Street Church and our own Easter convocation.

Y-TEENS Entertain 400 Girls at Conference

"Give of Our Light" was the theme of the Central Indiana Midwinter Conference of Y-Teen Clubs held in PHS for the first time this year. More than twenty clubs were represented at the meetings which included workshops and general sessions, as well as a luncheon at the Judge Haynes cafeteria.

This conference gave the girls experience in the detailed planning that such a big project requires and also a chance to widen their outlook by meeting other Y-Teens.

Hi-Y Carries on Traditional Activities

The talent show skit on "How to combine classical and popular music" was the highlight of a wide variety of Hi-Y activities. It combined the "musical" abilities of several members with the "professional" skill of director Jeff Ehrhart and his tape recorder.

Other events of the club were the "Snow Flake Fantasy" at Christmas time and the annual basketball game, in which the faculty was victorious.

SPANISH CLUB Entertains Third Grade Spaniards

During National Foreign Language Week, Los Conquistadores de Espanol invited Mrs. Leahey's third grade Spanish class for a program. In return the youngsters presented a short skit. Afterwards the pinata was broken and refreshments were served.

The JCL-LCE basketball game caused some good natured rivalry. Although both teams were backed by equally fluent and colorfully costumed cheerleaders, the Spaniards pulled ahead to win.

All students in the department were interested in the installation of the Spanish National Honor Society, one of three in Indiana. Based on scholastic standing and entirely independent of the Club, the society is sponsored by Mr. Don Seaman, teacher of Spanish.

Not shown: Ed McKinley, quaester.

A gold trophy was the prize for winning first place in the Roman style show at the state JCL convention at Butler University. The winning toga, noted for its authenticity and simplicity, was modeled by Lucita Beck.

Transforming the gym into a Roman villa for their annual banquet JCL members reclined on couches for an evening of casual dining, entertainment, and idle chatter just as their Roman forefathers did many centuries ago.

TYPHOON Staff Carries Plans to Completion

Publishing the yearbook is a year-long project, as the staff discovered when they made their initial dummy plans last June. From then on, they collected piles of pictures, kept a corps of typists busy, wrote and scrapped tons of copy, designed and re-designed the cover, and finally gathered all loose ends together into the 1958 TYPHOON.

PHSPIRIT Speeds Production

A new mimeograph machine cut production time of the Spirit in half this year.

With Mr. Sutton as advisor, True Steed, general manager, and Jim Robson to cut many of the stencils, issues came out regularly every two weeks.

A new feature this year was conducted by Janet Elliott and Phyllis Strock, who kept us informed on fads, fashions, and top tunes. Special art work highlighted the Christmas and Sectional issues.

Below—The "Dirty Dozen" seems to invade the living room at the wrong time. Ann Bone, Kay Wood, Sue Darby, Larry Butcher, Ron Bashia, Merle Boyd.

Although the Asiatic flu epidemic cut practice sessions tremendously, the juniors, under the direction of their sponsors, Mrs. Van Dyke and Mr. Clemens, produced a hilarious class play.

The cast of fifteen, with an understudy for each, plus twenty-six behind-the-scene helpers, plus another twenty-two models and ushers made the production truly a class project.

The clever comedy played to capacity houses on both evenings.

SENIORS Produce Play of High Quality

"The Heiress," suggested by the Henry James novel, "Washington Square," presents Catherine (played by Barbara Starlin), the mediocre daughter of Dr. Sloper (played by Bill Freeman), and an array of personalities that surround her. Because she is not clever as her mother was, she doesn't feel that she is a necessary part of her surroundings. The plot builds up to a striking climax.

Presenting "The Heiress" was a new experience in drama for the seniors. Practicing every night for two months, the cast produced a highly polished production of this dramatic play. The Victorian setting and costumes, the fascinating theme of the story, and the moving characterizations of the cast made each performance a memorable experience in the history of class plays at PHS.

GAA Girls Engage in Variety of Sports

GAA members this year took part in as many sports as possible, ranging from swimming at the YWCA in Muncie to bowling at the local bowling alley. All of the girls were working toward their letter awards, the climax of four years of GAA activity.

IT IS SPORTS THAT GIVE THRILL TO OUR DAYS AT PHS—memories of a glorious year of touchdown, hot dogs, the hysteria-packed sectional, hoarse whispers on Monday— things we'll remember forever.

Athletic Department Grows in Size and Scope

Everyone at PHS is affected either directly or indirectly by the athletic department. Besides the regular phys ed classes that we all take, there are approximately 275 boys who go out for the various athletic teams under the guidance of a staff of four coaches.

The cheering section, and especially the Pep Club, are led in their support of the Panther teams from the opening kick-off in September to the final gun at sectional time by a battery of six varsity cheerleaders. And these girls, in turn, are backed by the cheerleader committee, a group of students and faculty who work constantly for the betterment of school spirit and morale.

All working together, they make for PHS a year of excitement and fun in sports.

QUEEN JANE Reigns Over Revelries of Third Annual Homecoming

The rain stopped at 5:51. The parade started promptly at 6:00. Thus began the third and largest homecoming celebration in PHS history. Despite the unfriendly weather, the procession of floats and bands was witnessed by nearly a thousand people.

At half-time of the football game, which the Panthers copped from Hartford City, Jane Wright was crowned queen of the 1957 event. The victory celebration carried over to the post-game dance for alumni and students at the Youth Center.

PHS Hosts Clinic

Over four hundred cheerleaders representing approximately one hundred schools in our area attended a cheerleading clinic held in PHS early in October. The program featured workshop sessions where different types of cheerleading were demonstrated and suggestions made for improving techniques.

The project, sponsored by the cheerleaders committee, was so successful that plans are now being made to hold the clinic in Portland again next year.

PANTHER GRIDDERS Make Bryant's Second Season Successful

Freyburgher, Williams, Berry, and Coach Bryant keep close tab of the action on the field.

The Panthers, with seven returning lettermen, finished the 1957 season with an even record of four victories and four defeats. After dropping the first three contests, the purpleclads snapped back to win three in a row. Following a lone defeat by Coldwater, they rounded out the year with a victory over the Bluffton Tigers.

Portland used a multiple offense attack with the line over-balanced to the right, and was repeatedly able to break loose the backs for long gains. Nat Lykins' 74-yard sparkler was the longest run of the season.

John Cline was the Bryantmen's leading pointmaker and third in scoring in the MVC, while Elmore, Runyon, Inman, Kile, Starr, Pyle, Cline, and McClung were all named to the all-conference team.

Runyon received honorable mention on the all-state squad, and he and Inman were elected co-captains by their teammates at the annual post-season football banquet. Inman was also chosen the team's most valuable player.

THINCLADS Post Topnotch Record in Second Season

In the second season of cross country at PHS, the hill and dalers produced an impressive record of seven wins and one loss, and placed third and eleventh in the conference and sectional meets respectively.

Most of the credit for this success goes to Tom DuJardin, who, in the two years of competition, has been conference champion twice, placed among the leaders in two sectional meets, and was beaten only once in seasonal meets.

Also making constant appearances among the top ranks at the finishes were Jim Ayres, John Freeman, Jan Koch, and Norman Starr.

BASKETBALL Squad Racks Up Fair Season Against Stiffer Competition

Don Gillespie and Wilbur Linder, student managers, are invaluable to the smooth operation of the squad.

Keener competition in the 1957-58 basketball season caused increased excitement throughout the winter. New additions to the schedule included the Bluffton Holiday Tourney, Whiting, and Yorktown.

In the second game of the Holiday Tournament, Portland was defeated by a rugged Bluffton team. The Panthers then advanced to the consolation game where they defeated Peru, to finish third of the four competing schools.

The trip to Whiting was something the team will remember for a long time. After a game filled with all types of action, the boys enjoyed what was for some a new experience, an overnight stay in a big hotel.

The addition of Yorktown to the schedule did not provide as much excitement as was expected, for Portland took an easy victory over an outclassed Tiger quintet.

The season ended in the second game of the Sectional with a defeat at the hands of the Dunkirk Speedcats. The major thrill of the season came in the Sectional opener, however, when the Panthers turned in a 60-50 victory over Hartford City's Airedales, who had been the winner of the last five tournaments.

B TEAM Gains Experience In Winning Season

Following an early inability to get the ball through the hoop, the Panthers Cubs gradually developed into a well-oiled quintet that won a four-way B Team tourney, as well as eleven games of their regular 19-game schedule.

Coach "Squeak" Clemens usually used Ayres, Freyburgher, Hanlin, Shepherd, and Bashia to start games, but everyone saw plenty of action. Bob Smith, another starter, was moved up to the varsity in the latter part of the season.

The team gained priceless experience, and several boys will no doubt be seeing varsity action next season.

TALL FRESHMEN Bring Home Two Tournaments

Despite an otherwise rather hapless season, the frosh basketball team won two four-way tournaments, one by defeating Fairmount and the other, Adams Central.

These first year boys were exceptionally tall, giving them a backboard advantage over their opponents and promising some height for the varsity within the next few years. Engle, Blankenbaker, Harker, Lee, and Penrod comprised the normal starting line-up, with the squad being very well balanced in the scoring department.

The actual won-lost record was seven victories and nine defeats for a percentage of .438.

The spring of 1957 saw Portland's most successful track and field season since the rebirth of the sport in 1950. Coach Berry's cindermen won six meets and took a third and a fourth in eight contests. The county meet went handily to Portland, and the Panthers pulled down third place in the conference get-together.

DuJardin, Williams, Norris, and Stump all copped firsts in the conference meet. Williams and Stump also garnered fourth places in the Sectional and DuJardin became the 1957 Sectional champion in the mile run.

BASEBALLERS Do Well in Rugged Schedule

Although hampered by wet ball fields throughout the spring, the 1957 baseball team, spearheaded by their new coach, Harold Schutz, finished with a winning season.

The five win, four loss, record resulted from the team's noticeable improvement as the season progressed. This strength was shown by the fact that in the opening game Marion's Giants shut out the Panthers, but in the season finale Portland came within one run of a strong Muncie Central squad.

Jerry Strausburg led the team in pitching and Eddie Williams in hitting. Strausburg was also elected captain and most valuable player by his team-mates at the end of the season.
